

teachers' day: practice

9 am – 3.30 pm, Friday 27 February

Domain Theatre, Lower Level 3

Marking the 21st anniversary of Artexpress at the Art Gallery of New South Wales, this diverse programme is designed to stimulate classroom strategies and resources through investigations into student, teacher, artist and gallery professional practice.

- 9:00 Registration and coffee
- 9:20 Welcome
Anne Flanagan General Manager Exhibitions and Building Programme Outline
Tristan Sharp, Co-ordinator Secondary School Programmes
- 9:30 Opening Address
A career in the Visual Arts
Anne Loxley, Freelance Curator and Art Critic. Artexpress student 1981
- 9:50 Artexpress 2004 in the making: insights, strategies, programmes
Tristan Sharp, Co-ordinator Secondary School Programmes
The Future of Artexpress
Lesley Brown, Manager Artexpress
- 10:50 MORNING TEA
- ARTIST CASE STUDY
- 11:30 Fluorescent
Artist Philip Brophy discusses his practice and recent work Fluorescent, on show at the Gallery – a multi-screen video mixed in surround-sound which pays homage to the androgynous 'glam' aesthetic, which typifies much of Brophy's musical interests and critical writing.
- CLASSROOM PRACTICE
- 12:20 The Body of work: ... take their passion, their concept and squeeze it to its absolute limit ...
Byron Heap and Johanna Clifford, Visual Arts teachers, Robert Townson High School
- 12:50 LUNCH
- 2.00 Student, Teacher Collaboration: Fakes
Mathew Bowyer, film/video exhibiting ARTEXPRESS student and Nancy Winter, Visual Arts teacher, Cranbrook School
- ARTIST CASE STUDY
- 2:30 Fact meets science fiction along with a good slice of nostalgia ...
Artist David Noonan discusses his inter-disciplinary and diverse body of work. Noonan often works with painting, photography, sculpture and installation, but is perhaps best known for his films which toy with overdone and overplayed cinematic moments, reworking and pulling them apart to expose their constructed styles and genres.
- 3.20 Closing Remarks
Tristan Sharp Co-ordinator Secondary School Programmes
- 3:30 CLOSE

Please note: 9am early entry through front entrance. Registration will take place in the foyer adjacent to the Domain Theatre, Lower Level 3. Please be prompt. Coffee/tea will be served during registration.

Morning Tea and Lunch will be served in the Function Space, Ground Level, adjacent to the New Asian Galleries.
